
Who We Are

The Eye-Bank for Sight Restoration is the world's first eye bank. Established in New York City in 1944, it is an independent, nonprofit organization dedicated to restoring sight through eye donation and corneal transplantation, as well as to providing ocular tissue for research into treatments and cures for other eye diseases.

Since The Eye-Bank was founded, the pioneering organization has helped provide the gift of sight to more than 76,000 individuals who would have otherwise been blind, and countless others have benefited from our contributions to ocular research.

Our Mission

Provide safe, quality ocular tissue to surgeons and their patients

Support innovation and research into treatments and cures for eye diseases

Increase awareness about the need for and benefits of eye donation through public education and marketing

Our Vision

Continue our pioneering tradition as the world's first eye bank by being an influential leader within eye banking nationally and internationally and collaborating with researchers and clinicians who develop techniques to treat and cure blindness.

Our Values

Integrity

trustworthy, accountable and mission-driven

Compassion

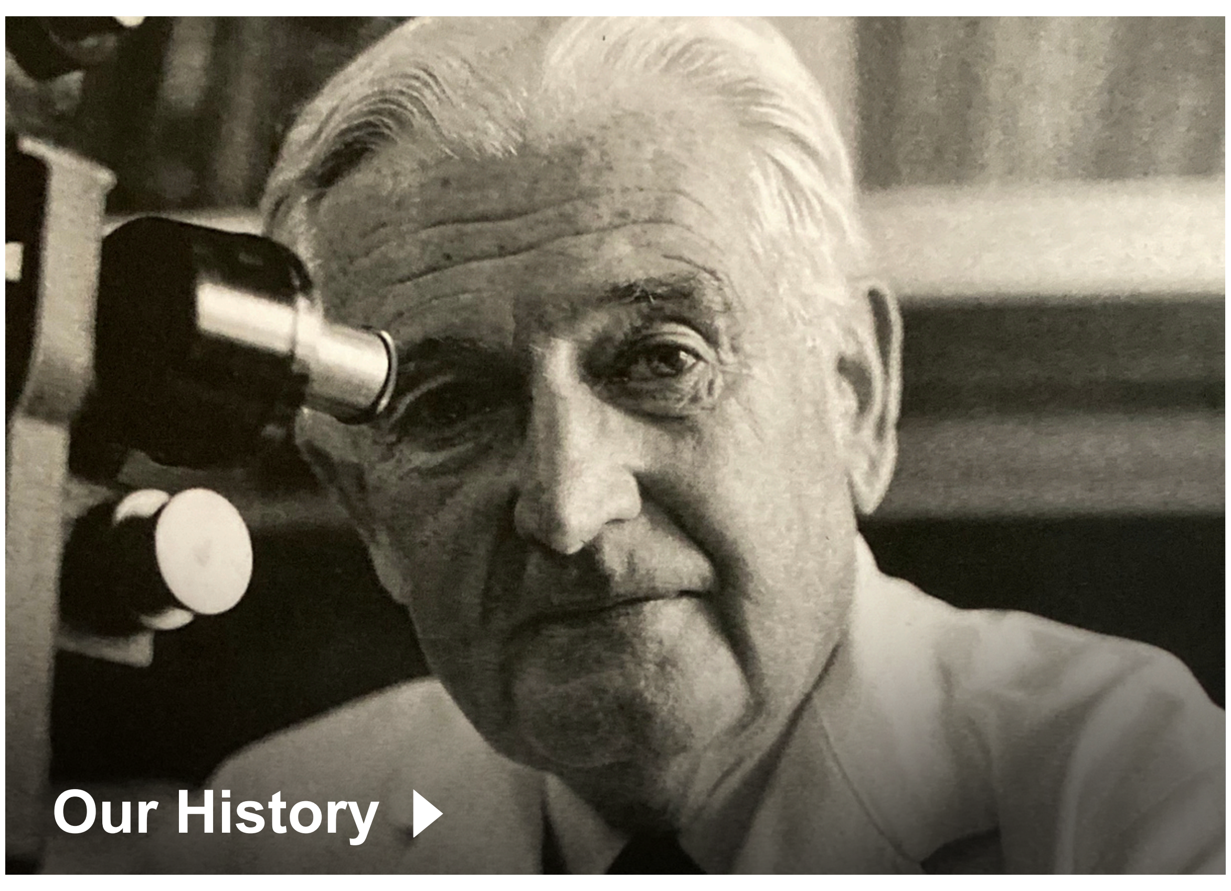
sensitive to donor families, transplant recipients, hospital staff and donation professionals

Dedication

reliable and thorough when responding to routine and emergency needs

Innovation

contributors to continual improvement in transplant and research



Our History ▶

Our Leadership ▶

Copyright © 2026 The Eye-Bank for Sight Restoration, Inc. · All Rights Reserved. Website administered by Creative Way Solutions